

Irrigation Design Engineer - Think Water Marlborough (New Zealand)

Are you wanting an opportunity to live, work and play in New Zealand's world-famous wine region, Marlborough is a regional tight knit community with great schooling and many outdoors activities on its doorstep.

Within our workplace feel valued where you work and where you can form strong relationships with your work colleagues and customers?

- Supportive owner
- Lead position in a great team
- Thriving industry
- Sunny Marlborough

Think Water Marlborough is a locally owned business based in Blenheim New Zealand with extensive projects and an increased demand for its services due to recent growth. It is led by people who live, work and are committed to the Marlborough community. We offer expert advice, designs and great service for all manner of water needs.

The person in this role will work closely with the managing director and backed by a competent well-functioning team to allow the successful candidate to concentrate on designing and selling systems, knowing the project will be taken care of.

You will be capable of:

- Designing and selling water systems
- Building strong relationships internally and externally
- Managing workload effectively and delivering to timelines
- Converting concepts to sales

This role will require a combination of technical design knowledge and sales. The opportunity is open to a designer with a number of years of irrigation design and experience.

Ideal skills and attributes:

- Experience in vineyard and stock water systems
- Familiar with and experience using designs programs Irricad and Autocad
- Pumping knowledge, Specification and assessment of pump performance
- Excellent relationship management experience and the ability to sell an idea
- Proven experience in problem solving, strategic thinking and planning
- Have sound business acumen and communication skills
- Be well organised and have good time management
- Believe in opportunity, accountability and be unafraid to drive change
- Down to earth and strong relationship management skills
- Ability to listen to and understand a customers needs
- Willingness to work as a team, develop colleagues and leave a positive impression on our customers
- Competent with speaking and writing in English

For the successful candidate a competitive remuneration package will be available, as well as:

- Competitive remuneration package
- Employee incentive scheme
- Additional staff purchasing benefits
- A day in lieu for your birthday
- Mobile phone and company vehicle
- Assistance with NZ visa's and relocation costs available (Although an agreed commitment may be required as part of the negotiation)

If this sounds like an opportunity for you, please send your cover letter and resume to greg.somerville@thinkwater.co.nz. If you would like to discuss this role further.